NEWS REVIEW OF THE PAST WEEK

House May Decide to Investigate Bernstorff's Plot to Influence Congress.

FIVE NAMED BY TOM HEFLIN

Bulgaria Ready to Quit War—German's Conditional Offer to Evacuate Belgium—Lansing's Exposure Well Timed—Haig Makes Further Advances in Flanders.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.
The house of representatives may determine to investigate itself, or rather the action of certain of its members, as a result of the disclosure of the Bernstorff plot to influence congress and keep the country from entering the war, by the expenditure of $50,000 through some organization. Representative Tom Hefflin of Alabama precipitated the inquiry by stating in the house that he knew of some congressmen whose actions were suspicious. Called before the rules committee, he named Senator La Follette, Representative at Large W. E. Mason of Illinois, Representatives Fred A. Norton and John M. Baer of North Dakota. He did not accuse anyone of receiving German money, but demanded that the activities of these five men be investigated.

Bulgaria Wants to Quit.
Bulgaria, having attained the ends for which she entered the war—the recovery of Dobruja, Macedonia, and parts of Serbia that were taken from her in the Balkan war—is ready to quit fighting if permitted to retain her conquests. So says Stephan Panaretoff, Bulgarian minister to the United States. His country, he adds, has no interest in Germany's ambition to establish a Mitteleuropa, and would have preferred to enter the war on the side of the allies, had their promises been as unconditional as those of the Kaiser.

Austria-Hungary, according to advisers received in Washington, is rapidly nearing collapse, and the German war party realizes that peace, if it is to be of the German brand, must be procured within six months or before America gets fully into action. There is great distress throughout the realm of Emperor Charles and his people would gladly stop fighting provided they did not have to yield too much to Italy.

Germany Offers Belgian Bargain.
The replies of Germany and Austria to the peace proposals, filled with high sounding phrases and hypocrisy, were virtually ignored by the allied governments and condemned as evasive and insincere by the press. Therefore the Kaiser came forward with an addendum, verbally expressed to the papal nuncio at Munich by Foreign Secretary Kuehlmann. In which he agreed to evacuate Belgium in order to gain peace. But the offer was hedged about by conditions that made all the non-Treaty world laugh. He demanded that Germany have the right to develop her economic enterprises freely in Belgium, especially in Antwerp; that Belgium give a guaranty that "any such menace as that which threatened Germany in 1914 would in future be excluded"; that Belgium undertake to maintain the administrative separation of the Flanders and Walloon districts introduced by Germany, and not enter into any commercial relations aimed at Germany. In return Germany offers graciously to contribute a share of the compensation to be paid to the little nation she has ravished.

The new German party organized by Admiral von Tirpitz and others now in office got into action last week with the slogan "Peace without indemnity means Germany's defeat." This party serves to co-ordinate the activities of the pan-German agencies and is getting large support. The social democrats are gathering their strength to combat it, and the result is likely to be a very pretty fight when the reichstag reconvenes.

Little News From Russia.
Little is heard and still less is known just now about conditions in Russia. Plots, counter plots and accusations have not yet unseated Kerensky, and he and the soldiers' and workmen's council may finally establish complete control over the situation. The troops in the field and in garrisons have been murdering their officers by the score, and one correspondent asserts they have no heart for the war since the czar was deposed—a statement that only adds to the confusion of the mental picture we over here have of the new republic. The armies, however, since the Germans captured Jacobstadt, have checked the advance of the enemy and even retaken some positions near Pskov. Winter is coming to their aid and it is considered probable that the movement of the Germans toward Petrograd is about ended for this year.

General Soukhomlinoff, former war minister, first of the autocrats to be judged by a jury of the new democracy, was convicted of high treason on Wednesday, and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for life. His young wife, whose extravagance drove him nearly insane, was acquitted.

Lansing's Useful Disclosures.
As a means of consolidating the sentiment of the country and arousing its enthusiasm for a victorious war, the disclosures of German intrigue made by Secretary Lansing are unequalled. And they are ably seconded by the stirring speeches that Colonel Roosevelt has been delivering. Mr. Lansing times his exposures well and makes them with a calm finality that is most effective. His latest statement is that he has conclusive evidence that Count von Bernstorff on or before January 19 had received and read the Zimmerman note to the German minister in Mexico City telling of the intention to begin unrestricted submarine warfare on February 1, and consequently was fully aware of his government's plan when he asked authority to expend $50,000 to influence congress and keep this country neutral.

Colonel Roosevelt's patriotic addresses were a distinct feature of the week. In Chicago and other middle West cities he expressed forcibly the opinions he and most of the rest of us have of the pacifists and obstructionists and other pro-Germans, and he gave special attention and some choice language to the case of Robert M. La Follette, the United States senator with whom Wisconsin is afflicted.

The doughy "T. R." invaded the enemy's country, delivering one of his most fiery speeches at Racine. At the Chicago meeting and elsewhere resolutions were adopted calling for the expulsion of La Follette from the senate, but that so-called honorable gentleman, seemingly unmoved by the storm of denunciation, was busy organizing his followers in Wisconsin for a fight based on what he thinks are his principles.

South America Is on Fire.
Germany sought to pacify Argentina by disapproving the ideas expressed by Count von Luxburg, but the South American republic was by no means satisfied and the people demanded that war be declared. The chamber of deputies concurred in the resolution of the senate that relations with Germany be severed, and it was up to President Irigoyen. He has been a determined advocate of neutrality, but it seemed likely that he would be forced to yield to the demand for war. Before deciding the matter, he began negotiations to secure united action by all the Latin-American nations. Uruguay and Paraguay were reported as eager to break off relations with Germany, and Peru last week presented to the imperial government a demand that satisfaction be given within eight days for the sinking of the Peruvian bark Lorton in Spanish waters last February.

The people of Argentina have been stirred to increased indignation by the serious strikes of railroad men and other workers, which have been accompanied by much violence and destruction of property. These strikes are admittedly fomented and financially supported by Germans.

Haig Resumes His Offensive.
Having spent the first part of the week in consolidating his gains and beating off the desperate counterattacks of the Germans, Field Marshal Haig on Wednesday resumed his offensive in Flanders in the Ypres region. In a few hours his men had occupied ground to a depth of more than 1,000 yards along most of the front involved, and were in possession of the Tower Hamlets ridge, beyond the bloody Polygon wood, and had taken most of Zonnebeke, the village from which they were driven in April, 1915. The Germans made tremendous strong counterattacks during the afternoon and evening, but in vain. The results of the offensive, at the date of writing, are pronounced most satisfactory.

Very heavy losses were incurred by the crown prince in futile attacks on the French along the Chemin des Dames and north of Verdun.

Four air raids in two days were made on England by the Germans and about a score of persons were killed. Both airplanes and Zeppelins took part in these raids and aerial torpedoes were used. The chief result was a renewed demand by the British press for reprisals. In several bombing expeditions the allied airmen did great damage to German establishments in Belgium. Monday night the German aviators cleverly bombed a French camp of German prisoners, killing two and wounding 17. They probably thought it was a hospital.

Steel Prices Heavily Reduced.
By a voluntary agreement made by steel producers with the war industries board and approved by the president, a scale of quotations was established that reduces prices of steel by about one-half. These, according to Elbert H. Gary, are fair and reasonable, though far below the expectations of the manufacturers. The priority committee of the war industries board issued an order that in all cases preference in orders for iron and steel and their products be given to consumers turning out materials actually necessary for the war's conduct. Manufacturers of articles classed as luxuries are the first to feel the effects of this order.

The federal labor trouble mediators are a busy lot of men these days. No sooner was the big strike of iron workers at San Francisco settled than the lake seamen voted to strike, and next the switchmen of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern suddenly quit, crippling the mills of the United States Steel corporation at South Chicago and Gary. Also, machinists employed by the government in navy yards and arsenals made new demands for more pay, and the bituminous coal operators and miners could not agree on wages. It was a relief to learn that the International Brotherhood of Leather Workers determined to prevent all strikes in its ranks during the war.

For Second Liberty Loan.
All preparations were completed last week for the campaign to lead the second Liberty loan. The bonds, which will bear 4 per cent interest, will be advertised by posters, by every postmaster, railroad, express and telegraph manager, and every schoolteacher. A letter will be sent to every farmer in the country, and a special missive will go to a selected list of a million wealthy agriculturalists. They will be urged to invest as much of the proceeds of their harvest as possible in the Liberty bonds. Window cards, mailing stickers and automobile stickers will be distributed by the millions.

The senate passed the $2,000,000,000 war deficiency bill, and the house and senate conferees completed their work on the great war tax bill.

LAW CRITICIZED BY U. S. JUDGE

COCHRAN HOLDS THAT LAW PROHIBITING SELLING OF LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS, DEFECTIVE.

LEXINGTONIANS ARE DISMISSED

When It Could Not Be Proven That They Had Profited or Acted as Saloon Agents—Law Does Not Forbid Giving Liquor to Uniformed Men.

—Frankfort.
"The law is defective," declared Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the United States district court, in referring to the prohibition against selling liquor to soldiers in uniform, "in that it does not forbid the giving to or procuring liquor for soldiers."

Judge Cochran said this after several Lexington people arrested on the charge had been dismissed by the grand jury or acquitted, because it could not be proven that they profited by the transaction or were agents for the saloons.

Eight people convicted of the offense were sent to jail for six months and fined $100 by the judge. Will Burnham, a 16-year-old negro, who had pleaded guilty, told the court that he had made a mistake in his plea, as he only procured the liquor for a soldier. Judge Cochran made his sentence one month with $100 fine. The others were Thomas Combs, John Hall, J. Underwood, Kate Seebree, Robert Willis, Taylor Jewell, W. B. Webster and William McCarthy.

At the conclusion of the criminal docket Judge Cochran passed sentence on fifteen prisoners. Ollie McGaughey, interurban motorman, who pleaded guilty under the white slave act to taking a Woodford county girl to Middletown, O., was given a year in the Atlanta penitentiary.

George Majors, arrested in Bourbon county as a suspected German spy, drew sixty days for wearing the uniform of the United States army. When asked what he had to say, Majors told the court, "If you will let me off I'll join the army and wear the uniform by right." Judge Cochran inquired particularly into what had inspired the "spy talk," but the substance of it seemed to be the uniform and the rather incoherent tale Majors told about having been sworn in as orderly by a "Captain Cutts" never could be located. Majors said he is a native of Cynthiana and has a brother in Louisville. His parents are dead.

M. H. Williams, former storekeeper of the Eighth district in Anderson county, was acquitted on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mail. He was suspended at one time on a report of the deputy collector and two letters afterward were sent to Lawrenceburg reflecting on the morals of several people connected with the office. Williams was indicted on the theory that he had done it to get even, and an effort was made to show that the obscene letters were written on the same typewriter on which official letters Williams had sent to the office were written. The jury was out only long enough to return a verdict of not guilty.

Boy Raffles Admits Guilt.

Probably the youngest prisoner that has appeared in the Federal Court is George Deaton, 9 years old, who admits entering the postoffice at Seco, Letcher county, and taking money and stamps. D. F. Patterson, a grown youth, is indicted with him. Deaton will testify against Patterson, who pleaded not guilty. The boy's father said he climbed in through an open window, and the boy said Patterson induced him to do it. William Thomas, a negro, pleaded not guilty to forging the name of Carl Faulkner to a money order from Station 16 of the Detroit postoffice and offering it for collection at the Lexington postoffice. Dr. Lewis South, indicted on a charge of using the mails to defraud, will be tried next term.

Argue Brumleve Contest.

The appeal of M. J. Brumleve from the ruling of Circuit Judge Ray, quashing the return on the notice in his contest suit against Sheriff Charles J. Cronan for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Louisville, was argued before the court of appeals. Merrit O'Neal representing Sheriff Cronan and Judge James Gregory representing Mr. Brumleve.

McGaughey Pleads Not Guilty.
Ollie McGaughey, interurban motorman, indicted by the Federal grand jury under the Mann white slave law, pleaded guilty in the United States District Court to the charge of taking a girl to Middletown, O., for immoral purposes.

Damages Are Sustained.

The court of appeals affirmed the judgment of the Jefferson circuit court awarding $1,600 damages to Guy A. Yeager against the city of Louisville for injuries sustained when he fell from his bicycle and was run over by a coal cart on the Bardstown road, and reversed the judgment in favor of Yeager against the Bickel Asphalt Paving Company for $800. The Bickel Company had a contract to repair the street. The city was held liable because the condition of the street caused him to fall.

Kentucky News Cullings

An epitome of most important events transpiring in state

Winchester.—Winchester women are busy preparing comfort kits for the soldier boys from Clark county, and already a number have volunteered their services. A sample kit is on display at a local store.

Carlisle.—Morgan Finch, 23 years old, farmer, of Moorefield, this county, was convicted of manslaughter and given five years in the penitentiary in the Circuit Court here on a charge of killing Willie Berry last April.

Covington.—Mrs. Rissie Garrett, arrested on a warrant charging her with raising a money order from $5 to $50 at Nicholasville, Ky., is being held in the Covington jail. She was indicted by the Federal grand jury at Catlettsburg last May.

Carlisle.—After the testimony of thirty or more witnesses had been heard and arguments of counsel made the case of the Commonwealth against Morgan K. Finch, of this county, on a charge of murder, went to the jury in the Circuit Court here.

Georgetown.—Mrs. James Leach, of Louisville, general director of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and former president, addressed a large number of women when she spoke before the Georgetown Civic League. Mrs. H. Churchill Blackburn presided.

Lagrange.—Upon learning of a shooting affray among negroes of the Prospect neighborhood, County Judge S. E. DeHaven commanded an automobile and went to the scene. He overtook Jesse Ditto on the road and brought him to Lagrange, where he is confined in jail.

Henderson.—Tobacco growers of Henderson and adjoining counties are harvesting the finest crop grown in a number of years. Cutting and housing have been in progress for ten days and will continue until the end of the month. The weed is ripening slowly because of the late planting.

Covington.—United States Commissioner Bell issued warrants for the following men who are charged with failing to register June 5: Henry Anderson, Grant county; Junnie Mock, at Carroll county; Georgia; Charles Crane and Mart Reese, both of Estill county, and Fred Fannin, of Paintsville.

Lexington.—In response to telegrams from State Food Administrator Sackett representatives of the Lexington Board of Commerce joined with the Lexington Women's Council of National Defense in a mass meeting to start the family food pledge card campaign in Lexington and Fayette county.

Louisville.—Eleven insane men, four cripples and four men with glass eyes, a majority of whom reside in Indiana, were among the 225 draftees excused from army service in final medical examinations conducted at Camp Taylor. All of these men were members of the second contingent that reached here a few days ago.

Harlan.—Eight employees of the Wilson-Berger Coal Company, while riding to work in a motor car, were ambushed by unknown persons and compelled to run the gamut of a fusillade of bullets. The attacking forces, the number of which is unknown, were concealed behind bushes along the roadway. They fired 25 shots, only one of which took effect.

Owensboro.—When his son, who was called for service in the national army, left recently for Camp Taylor, Virgil L. Anderson, of Rockport, Ohio county, it is alleged, went to the station with him, and in the presence of other national army men and a large crowd abused every branch of the government and every public official from the President down to members of the local Draft Board. As a result Anderson was placed under arrest.

Hopkinsville.—The important matter of electing four lay and four clerical delegates to the tri-centenary session of the General Conference of the Southern Methodist Church, to be held at Atlanta next year, was one of the chief matters before the Louisville Conference sessions. Another feature was the presentation of a resolution from the Kentucky Conference, that it and the Louisville Conference be merged so as to solidify and strengthen Methodist and its institutions in the state.

Winchester.—John Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and was given a sentence of one, three, three and five years, respectively, on four indictments.

Flemingsburg.—A patriotic demonstration was held at the courthouse here and to the draft recruits leaving for Camp Zachary Taylor and were bade farewell. Speeches were made by Judge McCartney, Marvin McIntyre, Charles M. Cooper, Judge Babbit and Ellis Faulkner.

PRICE OF COAL SET TO DEALERS

H. A. GARFIELD, THE FEDERAL FUEL ADMINISTRATOR, COMMENCED HIS DRIVE.

The Price of Pennsylvania Anthracite Pea Coal at the Mine Is Reduced Sixty Cents a Ton.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.
Washington.—H. A. Garfield, the Federal Fuel Administrator, commenced his drive at retail prices of coal. By an order issued under the Presidential authority no retail dealer may make a margin greater by more than 30 per cent than the margin he made in 1915. The order is effective at once. The price of Pennsylvania anthracite pea coal at the mine is reduced 60 cents a ton, and the prices and classifications of the Transmississippi and Southern coal fields are set for the first time.

The margin referred to is defined as the difference between the average cost of the coal to the dealer on his dock or siding or in his yard and the price at which he sells to the consumer. This margin includes the dealer's profits. In no instance may the margin exceed that of July, 1917.

Shot in a Pitched Battle.
Louisville, Ky.—Grant and Luther Shipman, miners, were shot and killed in a pitched battle between striking miners and a sheriff's posse near Ages Creek. The posse, led by John A. Ward, county judge, had gone out to serve warrants on men recently indicted by a special grand jury. While the posse was searching houses in the neighborhood it suddenly was fired upon from a woods. More than 80 shots were exchanged in the fight which followed. The two Shipman brothers were found on the ground, one dead, the other mortally wounded. The death of the second brother occurred at the Harlan hospital. The identity of no other men was established, and no reports of other injuries have been made. Two additional arrests were made for alleged participation in the Wilson-Berger ambush.

Belgium Mills Stripped.
Washington.—Official dispatches received here confirm reports recently brought out of Belgium and Northern France that the Germans are stripping textile mills of the machinery, destroying or sending it to Germany. Actual removal of machinery has been reported from Roubaix, Tourcoing and near Courtrai, and the purpose of the conquerors to carry out this policy throughout Flanders is forecast by an order to all mills to furnish inventories of their equipment. In some quarters these reports have been interpreted as a possible sign of an approaching evacuation of a large section of Belgium.

Arousing Sentiment Against Senators.
New York.—In an open letter to the Governors of the states, made public here, the Executive Committee of the American Defense Society urged that "steps should be taken at once to rid the United States of those men who by their seditious utterances are giving aid and comfort to Germany." The public remarks and the votes of Senators of Stone, Reed, La Follette, Gore, Gronna, Vardaman and Hardwick, the letter stated, "clearly show their willful obstruction, seditious, if not indeed, treasonable, tactics." Each Governor was asked to "arouse public sentiment through an appeal to the fathers, mothers, wives and sisters of men at the front," in his state.

Price of Turkey Going Up.

Columbus, O.—The advance tip on turkey prices is from 55 cents or 60 cents a pound, a higher level than ever before known. Since young chickens are now 40 cents a pound the high score is not surprising.

Praises Our Editorial.

Editor Courier:

Your editorial in last week's paper regarding the behavior of our young folks in West Liberty is as true as gospel. It is an absolute shame the way the young men and women of our town are allowed to meet in public places and carry on their disgusting foolishness.

We have a curfew law which prohibits the boys and girls of school age from being on the streets after six or seven o'clock at night, but this law is absolutely disregarded and no effort on part of the town trustees or officials is made to enforce it. Prof. Craft has, to my knowledge, tried to get this law enforced so as to make these boys and girls stay at home and study their books, but without any result.

Don't blame Prof. Craft.
We see the parents of some of these young outlaws right along with them, who make no effort whatever to make them behave and in many instances the parents act just as bad as the children.

You can go to the postoffice and the business men of the town are actually crowded out by the young rowdies and can't get in to get their mail, while the noise that emanates from this mob is almost deafening. Is it any wonder that the postmaster has to rap for order?

Is this condition going to be allowed to continue?

What is the remedy?

We are teaching our children disregard for the laws of our land.

We also have a stock law in this county which is supposed to prohibit stock from running at large, but it is disregarded just like the curfew law, and a great many people just make a public pasture out of our streets.

It is high time that the good citizens of our town arouse themselves from their lethargy and take some steps to remedy this nuisance and teach our boys and girls to have some respect for law and order.

Very respectfully,
CITIZEN.

To the People of Morgan county:

I desire to state that I am still a candidate for sheriff as an independent, and will be until the polls close November 6, notwithstanding the fact that it has been told that I would not run on.

I am in earnest in the matter and am a candidate at the urgent request of a large number of both Democrats and Republicans. If I am elected I will have a deputy in each precinct to collect your taxes, and that deputy will be the choice of the people of the precinct, and I pledge you efficient service.

If I am elected you can pay your taxes in wheat or corn at the West Liberty Roller Mill.

It will be my purpose to take the office of sheriff out of the control of the politicians and put it in the hands of the people.

It has been reported that if I was elected I couldn't fill bond. I have given bigger bonds and already have arrangements to fill bond with ample surety.

My duties at the mill prevent my making a thorough canvass, and I am depending upon my friends to look after my interests in the race. Respectfully,
SHERMAN LEWIS.

"Can" the Kaiser.

124th Co., 31st Bn., 159th Brig. Camp Taylor, Ky.

To the ladies of the Red Cross Society, West Liberty, Ky.

We, the selected soldiers of Morgan county, wish to tender our very sincere thanks to the ladies of the Red Cross for their many courtesies and friendly hospitalities shown us during our last day in West Liberty.

Further, we wish to mention the fact that we are all well satisfied, and our motto is: "Can" the Kaiser."

Teddy has coined another phrase. This time it is "pawn broker patriotism."

Most any man knows how to tell a woman's age, but few have the nerve to do it.

Good, but not ours: "Some people merely whistle airs, while others put them on."

Some women have very sweet dispositions, but their next door neighbors seldom hear of it.

A silent man makes an excellent mate for a talkative woman. There is less chance for a family jar.

Some men are so simple they believe everything anyone tells them and no one believes what they say.

Any one can wave a flag and whoop-hooray, but it takes nerve and grit to go out and be shot up for it.

Harvard students sent the soldiers in France $20,000 worth of footballs. There'll be kicking in our army.

Some people are so crooked they would put off dying just for the chance to cheat the undertaker out of a job.

Don't laugh at the girl with a freckled face. She probably has a clear conscience—a rare article these days.

Our national conscience is clear, but that is more than can be said of many individuals who compose the nation. We'd hate to have our own sins spread broadcast.

The German Crown Princess has given birth to a girl, "according to Berlin advices." Our understanding is that Berlin advice was to give birth to boys.—Chicago Herald.

The only way to secure a lasting peace after this war is to lick the enemy so everlastingly hard he'll be glad to crawl into his hole and stay there until the hole caves in on him.

Germany is reported as agreeing with the Pope upon "the absolute independence of Belgium. She had a similar agreement with France and England prior to 1914.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Frequently we old fellows are accused by the boys in the draft age of wanting to go to war because we can't. They are mistaken. We are supporting families under the present high prices, and are able to appreciate the fact that soldiers don't have to buy food.

It would be interesting to know just how much of that large Russian loan will find its way into the pockets of the men in the trenches. We look with pride on the magnificent personnel of our army, but we are too apt to forget or overlook the fact that an adequate wage goes a long way toward securing that personnel. The difference between one cent a day and one dollar a day may account for considerable enthusiasm or its absence. We venture the assertion that an American guarantee of fifteen or twenty dollars a month to every Russian soldier who is willing to stand and fight would materially change the morale of the Russian armies. It is worth a trial.

During the second week in October the country will be able to correctly gauge the patriotism of its women. Every woman in the country is asked to register, during that week, for whatever service she feels she can render her country in this greatest crisis of its history. We have been used to boasting of the splendid loyalty of our women, and we have had whereof to boast. Thus far in the present conflict their response to the calls made on them has been spontaneous and most gratifying. But greater demands yet will be made. Their work is in no sense inferior to that of the men, although it may differ very materially from it in the element of "thrill." They will be called on to take up and bear woman's age-old burden—patient endurance and helpful ministrations. That their response will be even more enthusiastic than it has ever been, there are none who doubt.

A Typical American Mother.

Since so much has been said in your columns about the war situation, I should like to tell you of an instance that recently came to my notice. A mother—a plain farm woman—was telling me that her oldest son had been drafted. He is a fine young fellow, barely twenty-one, and her idol.

"He's always done the best he knew in everything," she said, "and if he's got to be a soldier I want him to go on doing the best he can. It's breaking my heart to give him up."

She caught her breath and turned away for a minute, and then went on:

"I lie awake nights thinking about it. I wonder if he will have to suffer from cold while we're warm at home. I wonder if he'll ever come back—"

She stopped at that and went back to her sewing, and I thought she would say no more. But in a minute she dropped her work in her lap and looked up.

"I'm glad he passed the physical examination," she said, "though if he hadn't he could stay at home with us. I've tried to take care of his health, and to teach him to do so, from the time he was little. I meant for him to be a strong, good man, whatever he was called upon to do. Of course I never thought of this. But when he goes I shall know that I have helped him go as a man should, and to be what a man ought to be. It's no more than I ought to do, or any other mother."

Again she was silent; and I could say nothing, though I tried to think of some comfort.

"I wonder," she went on quietly, "if this government knows just how much it asks of us mothers. I wonder if it knows."

I want to tell you that there are many women whose quiet heroism is as deep as that of this mother who felt that in giving her boy she was giving a part of herself, and that her service had gone to make a part of his efficiency. There was no demonstrative heroism about it, just plain sacrifice and pain and with it all a pride in the fact that her son should not be found wanting in any respect. She spent no time in whining about injustice, or in giving way to selfish feeling. "If he's got to be a soldier I want him to do the best he can." That was the keynote, and to me this plain, middle-aged woman in her calico dress seemed to personify America's brave womanhood in all walks of life.—Mrs. Catherine Grant in Southern Agriculturist.

Canadian Father to a Son who Died in Belgium.

God gave my son in trust to me; Christ died for him, and he should be

A man for Christ. He is my own, And God's, and man's, not mine alone.

He was not mine to "give." He gave Himself that he might help to save

All that a Christian should revere, All that enlightened men hold dear.

"To feed the guns!" Ah, torpid soul!

Awake, and see life as a whole. When freedom, honor, justice, right

Were threatened by the despot's might,

With heart aflame and soul alight, He bravely went for God to fight Against base savages whose pride The laws of God and man defied.

Who slew the mother and her child,

Who maidens pure and sweet defiled,

He did not go to "feed the guns;" He went to save from ruthless

Huns His home and country, and to be A guardian for democracy.

"What if he does not come?" you say,

Ah, well! My sky would be more gray,

But through the clouds the sun would shine, And vital memories be mine.

The Weber Always Leads

ABOUT 1845, when the first Weber was built, you could not buy a better wagon than a Weber. There were no better built. Weber made "the best" his standard.

That was over seventy years ago, but the standard has been the same every year since. You know that, from the good work you have seen Weber wagons doing. You know they have been always popular.

We can show you, if you come in, that "the best" is the Weber standard to-day. We want to show the wagon to you in the up-to-date form, with every improvement, some of which you can't find on any other make of wagon.

You can see, here in the store, the new fifth wheel, the folding end gate, the link end rods, the strong construction of gears, wheels, and boxes. Come in the first chance you have and see this wagon.

For Sale by W. H. MANKER, West Liberty, Ky.

God's test of manhood is I know, Not "will he come?" but "did he go?"

My son well knew that he might die, And yet he went, with purpose high,

To fight for peace and overthrow The plans of Christ's relentless foe.

He dreaded not the battlefield; He went to make fierce vandals yield,

If he comes not again to me, I shall be sad, but not that he Went like a man—a hero true— His part unselfishly to do.

My heart will feel exultant pride That for humanity he died.

"Forgotten grave!" This selfish plea,

Awakes no deep response in me, For, though his grave I may not see

My boy will ne'er forgotten be. My real son can never die;

'Tis but his body that may lie In foreign land, and I shall keep

Remembrance fond, forever, deep Within my heart of my true son

Because of triumphs that he won. It matters not where anyone

May lie and sleep when work is done.

It matters not where some men live;

If my dear son his life must give, Hosannas will I sing for him,

E'en though my eyes with tears be dim.

And when the war is over, when His gallant comrades come again,

I'll cheer them as they're marching by,

Rejoicing that they did not die. And when his vacant place I see,

My heart will bound with joy that he

Was mine so long—my fair young son,

And cheer for him whose work is done.

Appointed School Inspector.

Jas. W. Davis has tendered his resignation as Superintendent of Schools of Morgan county. His resignation was accepted by Judge Dennis and John M. Lykins was appointed to fill out the unexpired term.

Mr. Davis has accepted the position of Inspector of Rural Schools of Kentucky, with headquarters at Frankfort. He left Friday of last week to assume the duties of the office. His friend are gratified because of the appointment. The office carries a better salary than the office of County Superintendent.

The county is fortunate securing the services of Mr. Lykins, who is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office.

We are authorized to announce
SHERMAN LEWIS,
of West Liberty, as an independent candidate for Sheriff of Morgan county, subject to the action of the voters at the November election, 1917.

"Camouflage."

This word may be old in France but it has only recently made its advent in the American press, and the inquiries directed to this column causes me to publish my answer rather than write separate answers to my many anxious inquirers. And holding that illustration is better than definition, I shall give a few illustrations of "camouflage" and its use:

If you ever saw
A back door
At 9 a. m.—
A face like an Old stew,
A hair like
A plate of cold slaw,
And feet like a
Couple of picnic hams,
And a shape like a
Burlap bag
Filled with waste paper—
And then you saw her again
About 9 p. m.
You would realize
That there is nothing new
In camouflage.

The above is an illustration of what camouflage is, and, keeping the illustration in mind I will now give a definition which will make it as clear as mud:
That which you see before you you do not behold. You are not what you seem to be, therefore seem to be that which you are not; consequently, you occupy a position which you do not hold. In short, it means making things seem what they are not, or not seeming what they are.

John Griffith's alleged candidacy for State Senator is camouflage. He wants the people to think that he is the candidate when it is said that the first thing that he had of his candidacy was shown a declaration of his candidacy. It is camouflage, too, when Uncle John pretends to be for temperance and is ardently supported by Mitch and Caesar. The real milk of the cocoanut is that Mitch and the others of the Breathitt Republican county ticket wanted Uncle John on with them to try to hold certain Republicans in line who were not stuck on the county candidates. Nobody believes he will win.

Another case of camouflage is the ostensible Republican leadership in Morgan county. The man whose grasp of political diplomacy, when real statesmanship is required; who can wield the club when meat-ax methods require; who possesses that sixth sense known as political sagacity that causes party victories, is not in the supreme lead, but is only a precinct committeeman. Just what the Republican party means by overlooking masterly genius; refusing to recognize dazzlingly brilliant party service is more than I can understand. If it were not for Republican camouflage the glory of the greatest of her great politicians would not be wished onto others. For who in all the broad domain of Morgan county does not recognize in the dusty miller the Gamaliel at whose feet sit all the ostensible leaders of the Republican party; who ranks highest in schemes of politics, and upon whose broad shoulders, Atlas like, rests the responsibilities of the party organization. I assert that this astute politician has thought out and pulled off more stunts in the interest of the Republican party, and especially for the Doe Wheeler faction of that party. According to his own contentions he manipulated the subtle scheme that landed Wheeler chairman by a minority vote. True, the Democratic majority in the county is steadily increasing, but this is without Sherman's consent and against his will.

Now his race for sheriff (if he runs) must necessarily be one of camouflage. To begin with he, while holding down a committeeman's job, renounces his allegiance to the Republican party and becomes an Independent to run for office in a Democratic county. He is not what he seems to be, therefore, seems to be that which he is not; consequently he occupies a position which he does not hold. Neither Republican nor Democrat is under any obligation to vote for him. In fact, either must bolt his party to do so.

Democrats, did you ever notice how solicitous for the welfare of the Democratic party the Republicans become when they want you to bolt? How they will fairly weep over something that has happened that might injure Democracy? And have you ever considered how foolish a Democrat must be who listens to them? In the race for the Democratic nomination for sheriff there was a clean contest on both sides and no Democrat has reason not to cheerfully support the nominee.

Fellow Democrats, if you were seeking a man who hated your party most intensely; who would most readily sweep the Democratic party and what it stands for from the face of the earth, would you look further than Mr. Lewis? Can the camouflage be so spread on him that it will disguise the fact that he is an extremely partisan Republican? In this awful conflict that is convulsing the world and in which our nation has entered upon the side of democracy and freedom and in which Democrats and Republicans alike forget their politics in their zeal for country, has any man heard the voice of this "independent" candidate except in criticism of the national administration, which is Democratic? For a man so strongly partisan that he can not see any good in a Democratic administration to ask Democrats to support him against their own nominee, who is a clean man, a capable officer, and who won his nomination fairly, is a reflection upon the intelligence of the Democrats.

We are indignant that a nation refuses to abide by its solemn obligations, yet no treaty obligation is more sacred and binding than a man's promise to support his party nominees when he participates in the primary nominating them. Participating in the nominating primary is entering into a solemn agreement or contract that you will abide by the will of the majority, and the failure to do so because the majority differed from you is violating your pledge of honor.

The following is a convict's plea to be taken back to work on the roads after he had had a trial of it for a while:

Oh, take me back to the convict's camp,
Put me to work on the grade;
I like the scent of the canvas tent
And the bunk the sergeant made.
Just take me out of this pesky jail
To the camp and God's fresh air,
Away from the shack where the small grayback
Skidoos through my uncut hair.
Oh, take me back to the dining tent
To feed with the bunch again.
Where every man gets a well-filled pan
And eats till he gets a pain.
Just give me a suit of Kentucky jeans
The same as you did before,
And I'll serve my time without a whine
And chip in a few months more.
Oh, take me back to the village of tents
I'm sick of this prison cell,
I'm an old hobo and I think I know
When I strike a good hotel,
Please send me back today if you can,
Just forget about your fee,
I've been there once and served six months
And the road man's jail suits me.—Ex.

FOR

HELLO!
MR. FARMER,

LISTEN TO THIS!

How does that strike you?
Listens good, doesn't it?
If some man were to come along with a basket full of silver dollars, and you knew that they were genuine—not counterfeit—and offer you 200 of them for $100, you wouldn't be long in making the exchange, would you? No, of course you wouldn't. For every dollar judiciously expended upon road construction and maintenance the users of the road will realize more than two dollars. This is no idle assertion. It is a demonstrated fact. Then why not exercise the judgment in regard to good roads as you would if some body offered you two dollars in silver for one dollar in currency? The principle is the same. Think it over.

Yours truly,

Reason.

CORRESPONDENCE

DINGUS.

Andrew Gillum, W. M. Cox and Manford Williams have returned from Ohio.

Born, Sept. 23, to Mrs. A. C. Bradley, a girl.

Randalls Williams failed on the second army examination and has come home. His eyesight was nearly destroyed a few years ago by a dynamite explosion.

D. H. Dawson, of Florress, county assessor by appointment, was here last week in his official capacity. E. C. Williams was chosen to assess Paint and Coffee creek precincts.

Sylvester Conley has bought a small tract of land adjoining his from H. C. Ferguson.

Uncle Elliott and aunt Eda Williams and Mrs. E. D. Bradley have been sick the past week. Mrs. Delpha Blevins, who has been sick for two weeks, is some better.

I. C. Ferguson is making preparations to build on his farm near Elamton. The old house where he was born is still standing and he intends to remove it and build on the same spot selected by his father nearly a century ago. Judge Ferguson and his wife are well known and loved here and we welcome them.

Charley Stapleton, of Logville, is moving to Muddy branch.

J. W. Conley, who has been at work at Muddy branch, is spending a few days at home.

Born, to the wife of Columbus Smith, of Jephtha, a girl.

SLAB.

Local and Personal.

W. P. Elam, who is working for an oil company with headquarters at Winchester, came home Tuesday to visit his family.

Mrs. Martha D. Womack has sold her fine brick residence on the corner of Prestonsburg street and Broadway to Commonwealth Attorney Floyd Arnett, possession to be given Nov. 1. Mrs. Womack will move to the M. T. Womack property on Main street.

Eld. C. M. Summers and family left Monday morning for Louisville where Bro. Summers will take up Y. M. C. A. work among the soldiers.

"City Club," alias Cecil Henry, is here this week visiting old friends and incidentally loading our merchants up with his famous City Club smoking tobacco.

WANTED—Two or three wagon loads of good cowpea hay.

H. G. Cottle, West Liberty.

Willie Cottle, of Forest, returned Tuesday from Ironton, O., where he had been at work in a steel foundry. He was painfully but not seriously injured by a large bar of steel falling on his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Ellington visited the family of his uncle, Josiah Havens, and other relatives on Grassy several days last week.

K. P. Adams, of Tabor, pipe line walker, was in town one day last week and dropped in this office to see his old teacher, L. T. Hovermale. Polk says that he calls his job "pipe line inspector" when he's away from home.

The play, "Any Girl," given by the Camp Fire Girls Tuesday night was well attended and well received, the receipts amounting to about twelve dollars.

W. H. Gross, of Pomp, was in town Saturday on business.

W. M. and W. P. Henry, of Flat Woods, were in town on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murphy, Dr. and Mrs. M. N. Nickell and little daughter, Daisy, of Ezel, visited in town several days last week.

M. E. Ferguson, of Silver Hill, was in town on business last week.

Robert Mays, of Elder, was here on business last week.

Harve Hasty, of DeHart, transacted business in town last week.

W. J. and Olen Oakley left Monday for Louisville where they will attend the Louisville Dental College this fall and winter. This is Willie Joe's second and Glen's first term at the college.

J. F. Havens, of Insko, was in town Monday on business.

Bernard Howard, of White Oak, was in town on business Monday.

J. N. Anderson, of Insko, was in town on business the first of the week.

Hon McClure, who has been at Ravena several weeks, returned home Saturday.

Frank Kennard, of Logville, was here Monday on business.

A. P. Gullett, Dentist, will be at Wrigley Oct. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 to do dental work. 381-2

Dennie Caskey and little son, Don, of Lenox, were here Monday. Don had gotten a particle of coal or cinder in his eye which required the services of a doctor to remove. Dr. H. V. Nickell administered a local anaesthetic and performed the operation without difficulty.

Mrs. Sam F. Carter and children, Helen Louise and Sam Filson, of Lincoln, Neb., arrived last week for an indefinite visit with her mother, Mrs. R. P. Elam, of near town.

FOR SALE—Fine, large brood sow, 3½ years old, and nine of the best pigs in the country.

H. G. COTTLE, West Liberty, Ky.

Mrs. R. D. Sublett and little son, Robert Hoigene, of Luverne, Ia., who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fugett, left Monday for Oklahoma where they will visit Mr. Sublett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sublett, before returning home.

Evert Mathis has bought the I. C. Ferguson property on Prestonsburg street, and will take possession in the near future.

Mrs. H. G. Cottle and little daughters, Orlean and Frances, returned Sunday from Scottsville where they had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hankins.

G. E. Nickell, of Cannel City, has accepted a position as brakeman on the C. & O. R. R., with headquarters at Huntington, W. Va.

County Judge S. S. Dennis and daughter, Miss Sarah, of Ezel, came over last week, the Judge to transact some official business and Miss Sarah to visit friends in town. Judge Dennis' health is somewhat improved and his friends hope for his ultimate recovery.

Mrs. W. M. Gardner and children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Derias Atkinson, and other relatives in Salyersville.

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Perry, of Forest, were shopping in town Wednesday.

"Not Enough Germans This Side of Hell to Stop Us."

Co. B, 336 M. G. B. N. Camp Pike, Ark., 9-23-17. Licking Valley Courier, West Liberty, Ky.

Now that I am located at the above address you may send my paper here instead of to New Orleans, La. I left New Orleans on the 19th with 441 men on our train. New Orleans sent out 1,200 men to this camp, and the state of Louisiana furnished 4,500.

Had they given me my choice I would have gone into training with the Kentucky boys, but since the Louisiana boys have proven so enthusiastic and ready to get themselves prepared to face our enemy I am glad I am with them, and if the Kentucky boys march into the battle line with the same determination to win as we Louisianians there won't be enough Germans this side of Hell to stop us.

Yours truly,

J. F. HAMILTON.

Notice of Dissolution.

This is to notify all persons who may be concerned that on Sept. 13th, 1917, the partnership of Mathis & Taulbee, composed of Evert Mathis and G. C. Taulbee, was dissolved, and the partnership business settled in so far as same could be settled. The business is continued by Evert Mathis, individually.

This Sept. 15th, 1917.

EVERT MATHIS.

FOR SALE.—Ten 50 lb shoats, splendid stock.

Students' Honor Roll.

By arrangement with the Courier a monthly feature of our school work this year will be the publication of the names of all pupils in the West Liberty Graded and High School whose standing in deportment, attendance and scholarship is 90 per cent or more. Following is the Honor Roll for the first month:

PRIMARY GRADES—Bernice Nickell, Lauren Mathis, Aquilla Harmon, Owen C. Wells, Ruth Gardner, Kathryn Summers, Edward Keeton, Bernie Dyer, Thelma Gross, Marion Edward Carter, Neil Duncan Cole, Nancy Elizabeth Lykins, Vivian Bellamy, Grace Reid, Stanley Day Gullett, Jesse Gambill, Marguerite Haney, Ethel May Keeton, Wanda Lee Foreman, Nettie Gambill.

INTERMEDIATE GRADES—Marguerite Archibald, Elizabeth Bellamy, Harry Clayton Cartmell, Edra Catherine Caskey, Lucinda Day, Ray Dyer, Leona Elam, Nannie Kate Elam, Frank Franklin, Marion Gardner, Chester Gibbs, Floyd Gambill, Elmer Johnston, Irene McManis, Nell Nickell, Leona Reid, Mildred Steele, Kathleen Wells.

GRAMMAR GRADES—Maude May Dyer, Willie Miles, Bessaline Perry, Bessie Dyer, Mildred Gevedon, Edna Wells, Everett Nickell, Lucien Reid, Drexel Moore, Ora Bellamy, Luke Williams, Ruth Davis, Jewel Lacy, Christine Swetnam, Roxie Reid, Wilma Nickell, Bonnie Franklin, Gladys Nickell, Irene Kendall, Nancy McClure, Edna Potter, Carter Lykins, Earl Arnett, Clarence McManis, Curtis Mathis, Roger Womack, George Potter, Paul Haney, Clara Oney, Josephine Phillips, Derinda Rose, Henry Carter, Emmerson Bellamy.

HIGH SCHOOL—Edra Wheeler, Ronnie Franklin, Bessie Blair, Dora Williams, Robert Lykins.

It should be stated that there are other high school students who would probably have attained the Honor Roll, had it not been that some of their examinations were postponed. Their grades for the first month, therefore, will not be complete until the end of the second month, at which time due recognition will be given their standing in school.

Ripe Tomato Jam.

This recipe makes a particularly delightful sweet, quite different from most tomato preserves. Cook five pounds of ripe tomatoes till quite soft. Press through fine sieve to remove seeds and skins. Return pulp to fire and cook slowly till water has evaporated enough to leave pulp thick. Measure pulp and for each cup of pulp allow one cup of sugar, one half lemon, juice and rind, and one sprig of mint. Cook all together very slowly, using great care lest it stick and burn, till quite thick. Put in jelly glasses and cover with paraffin after removing lemon rind and mint. This same recipe can be used for tomato jelly if half tomatoes and half apple peelings and cores are cooked together at beginning. Weigh tomatoes and apples, using one-half each.—Southern Agriculturist.

The Teachers' Institute.

The Morgan County Teachers' Institute is in session at the College auditorium. The new Superintendent, John M. Lykins, is "sitting on the lid," and Prof. R. S. Eubank is instructor. It is needless to say that they are having an enthusiastic and successful institute. Where Prof. Eubank is in charge that goes without saying. We will give an account of the proceedings next week.

Just Can't Do Without It.

Rossville, Kas., 9-25-17. Licking Valley Courier, West Liberty, Ky.

Dear Sirs: Am sending $1.00 for which please send me the paper for another year. I find it hard to do without it.

This leaves all well and hope it finds the Courier Crew the same. Best wishes to all our old friends.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only "constitutional" cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

"It Pays 5 Ways"

Pays cash to you while living. $50.00 a month for you and yours for life. We are speaking of the new Multiple Protection Income Policy, issued only by the Pacific Mutual of California. The low cost will surprise you. There may come a time in your life when you will not be insurable—Think!!

1	If sickness lays you up, you will receive $50.00 a week for a term not exceeding fifty-two weeks. Think of the satisfaction and comfort of knowing that you have this definite absolute income.	Sickness
2	Suppose an accident put you in the hospital, who will pay the doctor, nurse, medicine and hospital charges? If protected by this policy you will receive $50.00 a week for a term not exceeding fifty-two weeks.	Accident
3	If your pay check stops from permanent disability, through loss of both eyes, hands or feet, you receive $50.00 a week for a term of fifty-two weeks and $50.00 a month thereafter for life.	Disability
4	During old age, that is, if you are sixty-five—you receive a monthly income as long as you live. There is satisfaction in knowing that old age will not overtake you unprepared.	Old Age
5	When you die, your wife or other beneficiary will be paid $50.00 a month for life. In case your death is accidental, your estate will receive $5000.00 extra.	Death
